This is a chance for delegates to meet other project directors and government representatives from their country/region. This session is designed to be informal, giving delegates the chance to meet colleagues and government representatives (where in attendance), and discuss issues specific to their country/region.

ii

This session is designed for delegates to meet their local and international project partners to discuss issues specific to their projects.

iii

In this session delegates will be split into groups along broad academic discipline areas. We will ask that delegates talk briefly about their projects (5-10 minutes), including time for discussion. Each session will have a facilitator and a note-taker. A member of each group will be nominated to give a 3-5 minute report on the common themes from the session at the plenary session at 15.30 on Tuesday.

iv

Delegates will report back on the findings of the ‘academic disciplines’ parallel workshop sessions. These findings will be collated and emailed to all delegates after the conference.

In this session delegates will be split into groups, each focusing on a specific challenge of running a project and how this might be overcome. Each session will have a facilitator and a note-taker. A member of each group will be nominated to give a 3-5 minute summary of the themes from the session at the plenary workshop at 14.30 on Wednesday.

vi

Delegates will report back on the findings of the ‘key challenges’ parallel workshop sessions. These findings will be collated and emailed to all delegates after the conference.
